Minister’s Exemption

Boilers and Pressure Vessels Regulation 220/01

Due to an inadvertent omission, an exemption for a boiler, pressure or piping that is used exclusively for agricultural purpose was not carried forward to the Boilers and Pressure Vessels Regulation under the Technical Standards & Safety Act.

Under subsection 36(5) of the Act, the Minister of Consumer and Business Services has the authority to exempt in writing, any thing or part of any thing or class of thing or class of person from any provision of the Act, the regulations of a Minister’s Order.

An exemption from the Boilers and Pressure Vessels Regulation 220/01, concerning a boiler, pressure vessel or piping used exclusively for agricultural purpose, has been granted by the Minister. Please see below:

IN THE MATTER OF section 36 (5) of the

Minister’s Exemption

Pursuant to my authority under section 36 (5) of the above Act, I hereby exempt the following class of thing from the Boilers and Pressure Vessels Regulation, being Ontario regulation 220/01:

A boiler, pressure vessel or piping used exclusively for agricultural purposes.

(original signed by)

Norman W. Sterling
Minister of Consumer and Business Services